

22ND ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ASIA-PACIFIC PARLIAMENTARY FORUM

RESOLUTION APPF22/RES-16

POVERTY ERADICATION, STRENGTHENING OF THE SOCIAL COHESION AND WOMEN'S EMPOWERING

(Sponsored by Thailand)

The 22nd Annual Meeting of the Asia Pacific Parliamentary Forum (APPF),

Noting that poverty consists of multidimensional nature and causes. It is not just a lack of adequate income but also a cruel mix of human deprivation in knowledge, health, dignity and rights, obstacles to participation and lack of voice;

Realizing that structural inequality in social, economic and political dimensions have isolated poor people from resources and such has limited their opportunities to develop themselves for better quality of life but further put them into the absolute poverty and the greater risk;

Considering that although the number of extreme poor has decreased in the last three decades, there are more than a billion people remain. Moreover, women are majority of people living in poverty because they tend to fall into poverty more easily and frequently than men;

Considering that promoting gender equality is critical for poverty eradication. When men and women have equal opportunities and freedoms, economic growth accelerates and poverty decreases more significantly;

Recalling that economic growth will not produce jobs and cut poverty unless it is inclusive and equitable, and the needs of the poor and marginalized are at the center of development priorities. Besides, the needs of the poor should be paid attention for country's development policies;

Reaffirming the importance of Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) to be as a framework for poverty reduction and women's empowerment;

Realizing that greater economic development alone is not enough to empower women; instead, in some countries cultural changes are needed in order to recognize the contributions that women can make for the advancement of the country;

Noting that women play an important role in business sector, however, they remain underrepresented in political area, especially at senior levels.
